

Every picture tells a story

BUILDINGS

Look for this painting in the gallery...

Look closely at this painting of St Paul's cathedral in London. List as many different types of buildings that you can see.

Which building do you think is the most important in the painting?

This image was painted over 150 years ago. How different would the scene look today? List things that might look different.

Things to talk and think about in the gallery

Does the picture tell a story?

What time of day do you think it is in the picture?
How can you tell?
How has the artist created atmosphere?

Do you have a favourite building in your town?
What is it about the way it looks that you like?

Things to do at home or school

Have a close look at the buildings around you; in your street, your neighbourhood or on your way to school.

Are they all the same?
Were they all built at the same time?
What's interesting about them?

Take three photographs that focus on something interesting in the buildings. Like an interesting angle or a close-up.

Email your finished work to learning@leicester.gov.uk The museum will be happy to see your creation and it may be posted on our website!
